

Dr. Alex Arrillaga:

1997-2001 graduate in Polymer Engineering. During the period 2003-2011 he was Research assistant in Leartiker-Lea Artibai Ikastetxea S.Coop, obtaining the PhD degree in Polymer Engineering in 2011, by the London Metropolitan University. Since January 2010, Alex is Head of New Materials Research Unit and since 2014 Head of Compounding unit, in Leartiker.

Main research fields:

thermoplastic and rubber compounding and processing.

National and international research projects:

29 local and national research projects, and the main coordinator for 1 European Project (Biorsource-Comp) funded by the Intereg-Poctefa program.

Publications

include 4 international scientific papers and 10 contributions to scientific conferences.